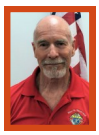
Grand Knights Report



Grand Knights Message

By Frank Saavedra

We are approaching the end of our fraternal year. At our next meeting, in May, we will elect our officers for the next fraternal year. I'm thankful that we don't have any political parties, primaries, or debates. What we have are those who we are putting our trust in to take us forward, and guide us in being better Catholics and better men. That sometimes requires them to ask for our help.

There are times I look at requests for help as a big inconvenience. I feel like I'd rather not be bothered with having to help someone or some ministry at church. It would be a whole lot easier to just not show up, and let somebody else do it.

To help me get past this, I find that I have to look at what we do in a different way. Someone wise once said that when we look at things differently, the things we look at become different. When I look at helping others as being something that Jesus did and expects us to do, then it's all of a sudden not an inconvenience. It's something of a blessing in disguise.

A lot of people on this planet need help. God has ways of asking us to help. He can tap us on the shoulder. If we choose to ignore the tap, he can pop us on the back of our head. If we choose to ignore the pop, he might give us a kick in the butt. I'm not always smart enough to move before I get my head popped, but I really don't want to wait to get my butt kicked. That's why I'm grateful for being a Knight. It helps me keep my butt out of harm's way.

God Bless!

Retreats

Do you ever just feel like life is wearing you down and your spiritual "gas tank" is running on empty? It's not unusual to experience "dry spells" in our spiritual life. One way to deal with or even to prevent these dry spells is to go on a retreat.

To retreat is to pull back to a place of safety, away from something that poses a threat or danger to our physical well-being. Sometimes in life, we need to pull back from those everyday experiences that pose a threat or danger to our spiritual well-being as well. In other words, we need to retreat: to withdraw to a place of "safety" so that we can re-group and prepare to once again head to the front-lines of life.

Spiritual retreats are nothing new. Buddhists and Hindus have practiced retreats for thousands of years. For Christians, when it comes to retreats, we take our lead from Jesus who himself retreated to the desert for 40 days and 40 nights before beginning his public ministry. Christian retreats can take many forms. They can either be a solitary or a community experience. Retreats can be silent or they may involve conversation and sharing. Retreat centers may be rural or urban (although most opt to be away from the hustle and bustle of city life and more in touch with nature).

In general, retreats include presentations by retreat leaders who offer guidance in prayer, periods of silence for reflection, opportunities to meet with a spiritual director, and communal prayer. Retreats may be "packaged" for a weekend, a day or evening, several days, a weeklong, and even 30 days, which is the amount of time that St. Ignatius of Loyola established in order to practice his Spiritual Exercises. No matter what size or shape a retreat comes in, it is basically a time of quiet reflection when you can get away from the demands of everyday living in order to get a better perspective on your life in relation to God.

God is not found exclusively in retreats. However, retreats help to restore our ability to better recognize God in our everyday lives. Retreats are temporary. When a retreat is completed, we are to make an about-face and head right back into our busy lives, carrying with us the grace we need to rise up to the challenges of everyday life.

You can get help locating a retreat center by contacting Brother and Sir Knight Bill Marcotte in our parish office.

INSURANCE
YOUR SHIELD FOR LIFE

An Ethical Responsibility April 2016

In March of 2016, the Knights of Columbus was named one of the World's Most Ethical Companies by the Ethisphere Institute for the third year in a row. This is a tremendous honor and achievement that all Knights should be proud of. You are part of a fraternal benefit society that puts integrity above everything.

But tremendous though it is, being one of the world's most ethical companies is not just an achievement; it's our legacy and our responsibility. We won't settle for less. We owe it to our founder, to our Church, and to our members. As a business, the Knights of Columbus holds a unique place in the world.

For starters, we were founded by a Venerable Servant of God, who, we pray, is on the path to Sainthood. How many companies can say that? It is our responsibility to continue the business in a way that Father McGivney intended. He founded this organization so that a caring community of Catholic families could come together and protect widows and orphans from financial devastation upon the death of the bread winner. Our mission remains the same 133 years later.

From our founding to the present day, we are and have been an unapologetically Catholic company. For us, this means that we must conduct our business in accordance with Catholic principles. We have established a strict screening process for our investments, and we refuse to invest in companies that deal in abortions, contraception, human cloning, embryonic stem cell research, for-profit health care that pays for any of the aforementioned, and pornography.

We are an organization by brother Knights, for brother Knights.

We don't worry about stock price, shareholders, or corporate takeovers. We worry about doing what's right for our members and their families. After all, we're brother Knights too.

As agents, we are rigorously trained to adhere to the highest ethical standards. Each of us must sign a Code of Ethics, which is modeled after the Ten Commandments. Among its commandments is "Thou shall present, honestly and accurately, all the facts necessary to enable a member to make an informed decision."

"Our fraternal ties to our members," it goes on to say, "make it more incumbent on us, in our dealings with them, to assure that their interests are uppermost in our minds as we provide solutions to their financial needs. It all boils down simply to the golden rule – Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." After all, we are our brother's keeper.

That's our commitment to you. And that's our commitment to conducting our business in line with Church teaching, and in line with the vision of our holy founder.

We are honored that the Ethisphere Institute has acknowledged that commitment. Discover the benefits of doing business with one of the World's most ethical companies. Contact me today. Tom

State Raffle Tickets

Chuck McKay—Raffle Chairman

State Raffle ticket sales are upon us once again. And as you may or may not know, our Council sold the winning raffle ticket last year. The State Raffle Chairman gave me the idea to reach out to family members and friends both locally and in other states. So I got my family members to purchase tickets. The result was my sister-in-law in Iowa had the 1st place winning ticket. This was great that Our Council sold the winning ticket in 2015.

But our primary focus is to raise money, all proceeds collected from this raffle go to the Caring Ministries here at St. Andrews the Apostle Church. Last years sales almost doubled funds raised from the year before. Wouldn't it be great to do the same again this year.

But we need everyone's help to accomplish this task., Only a couple weeks left to sell Your Tickets

We will also hold a drawing from all tickets sold by Our Council again this year. There will be 5 guaranteed cash winners.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

IN SERVICE TO ONE. IN SERVICE TO ALL.

We will be holding our elections during our May General Meeting, the proposed slate are those brothers who have stepped forward and said they were willing to actively participate in the running of our Council

If you have are interested in holding an office in our Council in the coming fraternal year, please contact one of the Council Trustee's to have your name

Knights are men who get things done….Volunteering our time and talents to serve our parish and community.
We are asking each current and past Knight to step up and bring at least one new brother into the Council.
Each Knight who signs up a "New Member" will be awarded the Arizona Star Recruiter Pin.

If you have been an inactive Knight, or know someone who has been and wish to get back in the Council…Contact John Simpson or Richard Bruck at the email addresses on the bottom of this page.

Your personal involvements as a Knight will provide opportunities, in charity and fraternity for service to the Church at the local, diocesan and universal levels; to your communities; and to the less fortunate in our midst.

A First Degree exemplification ceremony, by which a man joins the Order, exemplicates the virtue of charity. He is then said to be a First Degree Knight of Columbus.

Third Degree, Knighthood Degree, a gentleman is considered a full member.

Fourth Degree, Patriot Degree, is the highest degree of the order. Members of this degree are addressed as "Sir Knight". The primary purpose of the Fourth Degree is to foster the spirit of patriotism and to encourage active Catholic citizenship.

Reflections on the Camino de Santiago

I sit in a beautiful square in the old section of Lisbon as I write this reflection - tomorrow I will fly home. It is with many emotions, thoughts and spiritual reflections (and with bodily pain) that I look back on the past month of travel: travel across the Iberian Peninsula; and travel across time; and most significant as a traveler of spirit. I will share these experiences here briefly, each one in turn: BODY - MIND - SPIRIT

BODY: Physical Travel from Lisbon, Portugal to Santiago, Spain. Never, even in my 22 years in the military, have I walked as much as even one 20-mile hike. (I was in The Air Force, don't you know - we fly.) To think I committed to walk a 15 to 20-mile hike each day for 23 days was a huge undertaking for me.

Somehow, with the grace of God, the support of my traveling companions, and my own stubborn ego, I completed this trek. In the end it surprised me to find myself in the plaza at the Cathedrial of St. James - it was really physically exhilarating. A true sense of accomplishment. There were times in the previous month where I felt I would have to quit or would be prevented from continuing due to my own physical limitations and injury. I suffered from a badly pulled muscle - that I re-injured on two other occasions.

One thing that kept me going was the striking beauty of this place. I experienced it over an extended period of time up close as I walked - something I have not done in my own home of Arizona. I plan to change that in the coming year and will be walking the Arizona Trail of the Pimería Alta in Southern Arizona.

MIND: The things I experienced and learned in my travels are too numerous to list here but I will share a few. The Iberian Peninsula is rich in history. The pre-history is still evident as is the Roman Period and the eventual introduction of Christianity, Moors Period (8th -11th Centuries) and the return of the Christian Era. Each of these periods contributed greatly to the rich culture found in this place today.

Surprising to me was the number of Roman roads and bridges still in active use today. As a Civil Engineer I am impressed with their design and solid construction. The bridges are standing after more than 2000 years of traffic whereas in the U.S. We have bridge collapses which were only built 50 years ago.

The time of the Moors was a time of a very regulated society and order prevailed albeit a little heavy handed. The Moors built many forts that stand today including the original parts of the Castle of St. George in the City where I am now - Lisbon.

Then the heroic return of Christianity led by Henrique in the 12th Century. The physical testimony of this period are the many, many churches and cathedrals from the 12th century until the present. Also the sculpture, and paintings of the many religious themes from the Pascal Mystery of Christ to the many saints - St. George being the Protector of Portugal.

In modern times we see the end of monarchy and the advent of Fascist dictatorship - only ended in Portugal in 1974 with a nearly bloodless d'état of António de Oliveira Salazar. While I was here there was a large celebration for what is called freedom day – April 25 not unlike our Independence Day.

Today democracy is firmly established and free expression flourishes.

As I walked the Camino de Santiago I had lots of time to experience and reflect on this rich history of over 2000 years of western culture and reflect on the relatively short history of Europeans in the Americas.

SPIRIT: The journey of the Spirit is the one that is the most profound for me and the most difficult to explain with words. ...but I will try.

I took for my motto -

"Merciful like the Father"

This is the motto for the Year of Mercy declared by Pope Francis. My mission statement was one I wrote several years ago - I took this intention deeper during my walk. - It is:

I will experience the peace and joy I seek in this world when: I walk with humility in mindfulness; act for justice with compassion; love with tenderness through understanding.

I wept when I walked onto the plaza at the Cathedral of St. James on April 23rd - what I felt and experienced at that moment was the realization that I had traveled much farther inwardly than the 600 kilometers I had physically traveled. I had a deep sense that God had answered my prayer - and showed me how I must live - humbly, with a merciful heart, dedicated to justice and love. More importantly this new life is energized and lived with the grace that has always been present in my spirit - I was now given the courage to live in this grace.

For you who know and see me on a regular basis I charge you with two things:

> Call me to accountability for my motto and mission statement, for none of us live the life of faith alone. ...and,
> I also charge you to make your own Camino - whether abroad or at home. I promise to offer whatever guidance I can in your efforts to make this journey.

I make these commitments for two reasons:

> Because the journey continues in this life and the race is not finished in this world. It continues... ...and,
> Unless shared the journey never bears fruit.

Until we meet again,

BON CAMINO!
