Spiritual Message

Rev. Teilo M. Lwande, AJ

Against All Odds

There is a thief who was arrested for stealing a wall clock in the church. During the court proceedings, the judge asked him why, of all things, he decided to steal a wall clock in a church? He looked at the judge, smiled and told him in response, "My lord, God's time is the best."

Though he went overboard, there is something we can learn from his response, that is God's time is the best. Whatever we plan, whatever we want to achieve, the dreams we have, the goals we set, aspirations, and the list goes on.

Personally, I have known hardship. I have 'lost' myself. But here I stand, still moving forward, growing stronger each day. I will never forget the harsh lessons in my life. They made me stronger. And this is true of each one of us. We have all experienced this at difficult time of our lives; maybe some of you are still going through this phase in their lives.

Does it seem that you are always putting out the fires, crises, pains, hardship in your life with gasoline? ... Be reminded that it will not help. When all this is happening, we are reminded to step back and study the situation.

Sometimes you just have to stay silent because no words can explain what goes on your mind and heart! Otherwise, we create our own storms and get mad when it rains. Let our faith be in the lord Jesus Christ...

And sometimes, against all odds, all logic, we still hope that the Lord is with us because he reminds, "Do not be afraid" gen 15:1, 26:24, 43:23, 46:3, Mt. 10:31, 14:27, Mk.5:36, Lk.1:30.

Therefore, let us be reminded, that against all odds, against all trials, against all crises that we encounter in this life out of human condition, God's love and graces are always with us.

Be Blessed!

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Brother Knights

Summer is in full swing; many of us will be heading out on vacation with an opportunity to recharge and reconnect with family and friends.

As we close out this fiscal year I would like to recognize and a huge call out and congratulations to our Deputy Grand Knight Richard Bruck for being recognized as the Master Star Recruiter for the State of AZ 2017...well done!! We just concluded the election of new officers for the upcoming fiscal; the next several weeks gives us chance to reflect on the previous year's accomplishments and lay out our goals, visions and plans for this upcoming year.

This past year has been very successful and fruitful year which could have been accomplished without a fantastic leadership from John Simpson our Grand Knights and his team of Officers as well as (outstanding) group of Dedicated Directors. Thru their hard work and dedication, we had a record numbers of participants in many of our programs; which in turn enabled us to raise record amount of money from our program(s) with all the profits going to the various Ministries within our Parish. Just to jog your memory here are just a few of our many efforts and the Directors that lead the charge...

Protecting Your Family... Business?

You already know that the Knight of Columbus is here for all your personal and family financial protection needs, but did you know that the Order can help secure your business too? As your Knights of Columbus field agent, I can help you protect the continuity of your business for years to come.

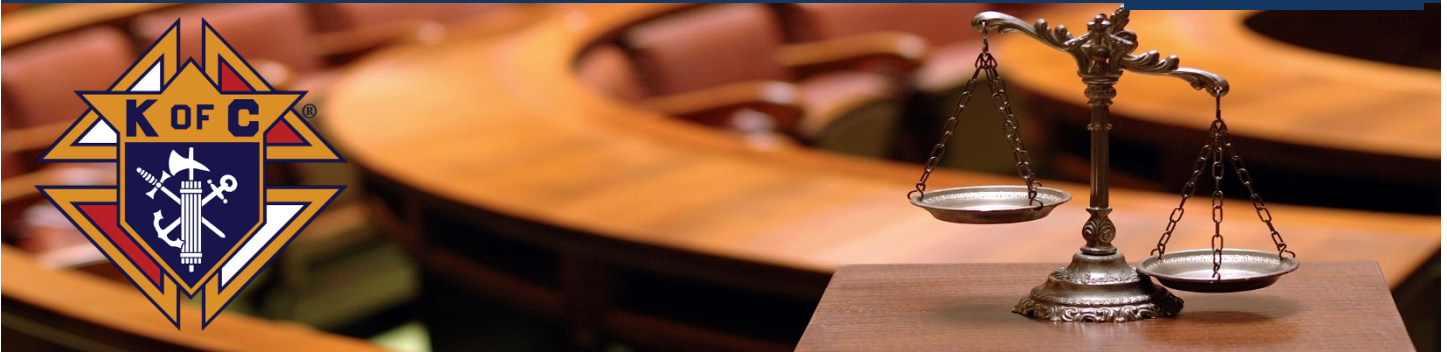

Business insurance is the term used in the insurance industry to describe the use of life insurance and disability income insurance to solve certain financial needs of businesses and their owners. The products offered through the Order can cover many needs, such as:

- Economic loss to the business when a key employee dies
- Disposition of a business owner's interest upon death or other separation from the business

If you've worked hard to establish a business, you owe it to yourself and your family to learn about the opportunities that the Knights of Columbus can offer. With protection for the family, the business, the farm, retirement, long term care and disability coverage, the Knight of Columbus truly is your shield for all the elements of your life

The Importance of Original Estate Planning Documents: “The Wet-Ink Still Matters”

The importance of keeping track of your original estate planning documents was hammered home to me early in my career by a story I heard at an “estate and trusts round table” for young lawyers. The presenter that day was a seasoned and successful practitioner that we all aspired to emulate. The story he told was simple, but compelling, and I have adopted it to help explain to my clients the importance of keeping track of their estate planning documents. Here’s how I remember it:

I was once engaged to handle what promised to be a simple estate administration. The decedent, we’ll call her Greta, was the quintessential grandmotherly widow, always smiling and sweet. She had three children, two daughters and a son. She loved them all. Greta and her late husband had been successful ranchers in Arizona and they had made wills that left everything to their three children. However, after her husband passed, Greta conveyed over half the ranch property to her son as an advance of his inheritance. As part of this transaction, she prepared a new will that provided only for her two daughters. She had good legal counsel when she prepared her will and there was no question about her intentions or competency.

As it turned out, the son was not as good a rancher as his father had been; soon he had mortgaged the land to cover his losses. A few years later, he lost the ranch to the bank. When Greta finally passed, the main assets were her home and what was left of the ranch property. Her daughters found a copy of Greta’s will in her desk drawer, right where she said it would be. It had a sticky note on it where Greta had written “my originals are in my deposit box.” The daughters were unaware of any “deposit box.” Was it a safe deposit box at a bank? If so, there was no bank identified and no key to be found.

The daughters contacted me for assistance. I assumed that we would find the will and the administration would be simple. I made inquiries of every bank in town, but there was no safe deposit box anywhere in Greta’s name. In the end, we never found Greta’s original will. So, instead of a simple administration, I had a full blown formal probate on my hands with only a copy of the will.

Not surprisingly, when we petitioned the court to probate the copy, the son objected. He argued that because the original could not be found, the law presumes that the decedent destroyed and revoked it. In that case, the prior will, which left him a third of the estate, would be controlling. Unfortunately, he was right. Of course, I knew that the presumption could be overcome, but only if I could clearly show that Greta had not revoked her will. Think about that for a second . . . the standard requires you to prove a negative!

*To make a long story short, we litigated that case for over a year. In the end, we prevailed, but the legal costs were significant and the daughters’ share of the estate was greatly diminished. More importantly, the family relationships were destroyed. The law of estates and trusts is old fashioned. The wet-ink still matter !!!!

So, if you do anything else this month, be sure to tell your family exactly where you keep your originals so that you can help protect your family legacy.

Hail! O Sacred Heart of Jesus, living and quickening source of eternal life, infinite treasure of the Divinity, and burning furnace of divine love. Thou art my refuge and my sanctuary, O my amiable Savior. Consume my heart with that burning fire with which Thine is ever inflamed. Pour down on my soul those graces which flow from Thy love, and let my heart be so united with Thine, that our wills may be one, and mine in all things, be conformed to Thine. May Thy divine will be equally the standard and rule of all my desires and of all my actions. Amen.

Many of you all know the great feeling of teamwork and joy by working alongside your fellow Brothers and thank you for your many hours of volunteerism; if you did not get a chance to be involved last then...THIS IS YOUR YEAR...to take up the Challenge and Step into the Breach and support your fellow Brothers. Together we must continue to grow and expand our presence within the Parish by working together with all the other ministries to help support not only our own families and serve as example and mentors to other families within our Community to help in strengthening the Domestic Church at home.

Did you know that if the father is serious and expressive about his faith there is a 93% chance that the rest of family will do the same!! Dads and Brother Knights the stakes are high and we need to set that bar and live up to it each day...we are in the battle for Faith and Our Families; thru our Corporal and Spiritual works we can and are making a difference...

St. Mother Tressa said "We ourselves feel that what we are doing is just a drop in the ocean. But the ocean would be less because of that missing drop!" I'm ready, are you??

Directors will be working hard with the Council over the next several weeks/months to finalize calendar and programs, please reach out to those Directors or myself; I will be happy to connect you and get you assigned to one or more projects. If you have programs, ideas on how we can improve or additional programs you would like to see started we would encourage you to share those ideas with us. Together we can make a huge difference. As I pass the Chancellor baton on to Dan Blomberg I would like to express my deepest appreciation for all the support you all have given me this past year and look forward to our Council's continued growth this coming year!

Vivat Jesus

Fathers Day Prayer

God our Father, you govern and protect your people and shepherd them with a father's love. You place a father in a family as a sign of your love, care, and constant protection. May fathers everywhere be faithful to the example shown in the Scriptures: steadfast in love, forgiving transgressions, sustaining the family, caring for those in need. Give your wisdom to fathers that they may encourage and guide their children. Keep them healthy so they may support a family. Guide every father with the Spirit of your love that they may grow in holiness and draw their family ever closer to you.
